Project Overview

The project “Youth Ambassadors of Non Formal Learning – phase 2” / YAMNFL2 is a continuation of the successfully implemented “Youth Ambassadors of Non-Formal Learning” project implemented in a period 11/2020-05/2022, approved by the ERASMUS-YOUTH-2019-CB program.

Phase 2 involves 6 partners and 6 associate partners from the program and WB countries, which aims to build the capacities of youth through participation in non-formal education activities and the ability to recognize competencies gained outside the formal educational environment, to enhance the employability of youth through innovative methodology.

OVERVIEW

About the Booklet

The Booklet of Competencies is a tool that collects good practices and useful information regarding youth employment through non-formal education.

You will find interesting insights about the situation of youth employment in the consortium countries.

You will also have the opportunity to learn from the experiences of young people, youth workers, and stakeholders about non-formal education.

Moreover, you will be updated on the development of our project, YAMNFL2.

Introduction

This booklet presents the key highlights from the third quarter of the YAMNFL2 project, focusing on activities that took place between September and December 2024. The main events include the study Visit in Novi Sad, Serbia.

These activities contributed to equipping youth ambassadors with essential skills in social entrepreneurship and enhancing their ability to foster non-formal learning (NFL) within their local communities.

Study Visit in Novi Sad, Serbia

The study visit was implemented in Novi Sad, Serbia with the participations of Youth Workers from the consortium countries.

The main aim of the international mobility was to enable young people to learn from examples of good practices in the fields of youth policy, non-formal education, youth work, and the development of competencies required in the modern labor market, particularly in youth employment.
